- successfully defending the use of Closed Material Procedures in Parole Board proceedings (R (Hickman) v (1) Parole Board, (2) Secretary of State for Justice [2024] EWHC 3209 (Admin)).

Cases

R (Keira Bell and others) v Secretary of State for Health and Social Care

(Divisional Court, May 2025)

Acted for the Secretary of State for Health and Social Care (SSHSC) in successfully defending a challenge to his decision-making in relation to the prescribing to children of puberty blockers (PBs) and cross sex hormones (CSH).

The SSHSC has made a Statutory Order restricting the sale and supply of PBs to children as a response to gender dysphoria or incongruence. The Claimants want the SSHSC to make a similar Order for CSHs. They contended that, having made the Order for PBs, the SSHSC could not rationally decline to do so. They relied on the Independent Review of Gender Identity Services for Children and Young People led by Baroness Hilary Cass, which they claimed had found CSHs to pose at least a materially identical risk to children as PBs.

Following a contested hearing, the Divisional Court (Whipple LJ and Johnson J) refused permission to apply for judicial review. The Court held that there was no arguable case that the SSHSC had acted irrationally by making the Order for PBs and continuing to consider what if any action to take on CSHs. The Cass Review had made different recommendations in respect of PBs and CSH, and had identified the need for a more immediate response on PBs. Further, whereas there was a high level of confidence that banning PBs would not have unintended consequences for legitimate uses, CSH are used in much greater volumes and a ban would present greater operational difficulties. All factors supported a careful and cautious approach to decision-making and that is what the SSHSC is doing.

R (Lill) v Secretary of State for Justice; R v Barnes; R v Berouain

[2024] EWCA Crim 1548, [2024] EWHC 3192 (Admin); [2025] Crim LR 188

Acted for Secretary of State for Justice (SSJ) who was defendant in a JR brought by one prisoner and intervener in appeals against sentence brought by two others. The cases were heard together by the Court of Appeal Criminal Division (CA) because they raised an important common issue.

The issue was whether prisoners who committed the offence of causing death by dangerous driving before the maximum sentence was increased to life in 2022, but who were sentenced after that increase, must serve 1/2 or 2/3 of their sentence before being released on licence.

This was a complex issue of statutory construction. The SSJ's position was that these prisoners are subject to the 2/3 release provisions. However, three previous CA decisions indicated a preference for the contrary construction. The CA accepted Iain's submissions and overturned its previous decisions.

R (Hickman) v (1) Parole Board, (2) Secretary of State for Justice

[2024] EWHC 3209 (Admin)

Acted for the Parole Board (PB) in a test case JR by a prisoner (C) challenging the use of Closed Material Procedures (CMPs).

The PB's Rules give it power to hold a CMP, i.e. to decide whether a prisoner is safe to release having regard to 'closed' material which the prisoner has not seen.

C initially challenged the proposed use of a CMP in his individual case as procedurally unfair. C later also challenged the lawfulness of the Rules themselves, arguing the PB can never lawfully hold a CMP in any case. The Secretary of State, who made the Rules, was added as a second defendant. The Chief Constable of Merseyside Police, from whom the closed material originated, was also represented.

By the time of the substantive hearing, the PB had directed C's release. May J held that the claim had therefore become academic and fell to be dismissed on that basis. May J also indicated that she did not consider the challenge to the Rules well-founded.

R (Brown) v Secretary of State for Justice

[2024] EWHC 429 (Admin)

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending a judicial review challenge by the "British Airways Killer". The claimant was due to be released on licence at the halfway point in his sentence. However, the Secretary of State exercised a new power to detain prisoners who are considered to be dangerous past halfway and instead to refer them to the Parole Board. The claimant sought judicial review on numerous grounds including that the statutory threshold for the power was not met, unjustified departure from the Secretary of State's published policy, and bias arising from an appearance that ministers and senior civil servants had been too close to a campaign by the victim's family and friends to keep the claimant in prison. Following an expedited 2 day hearing, Ritchie J dismissed the claim on all grounds.

R (Wales & West Utilities Limited) v Competition and Markets Authority

(Administrative Court, ongoing)

Acting for SSEN Transmission (SSEN-T) in complex ongoing litigation about energy prices.

SSEN-T was one of 9 companies that appealed to the CMA against Ofgem's price control decision, which set the revenues they can collect from customers for a 5 year period.

The grounds of appeal raised important points of law, including the extent to which Ofgem can reserve to itself the power to modify the appellants' licences. There were also complex economic issues, supported by extensive expert evidence.

The CMA held multiple hearings and allowed the appeals in part.

One of the other appellants (WWU) is seeking JR in the High Court of the CMA's disposal of the appeals. This is a test case on the standard of review the CMA should apply when deciding whether Ofgem's decision was wrong.

The CMA and Ofgem objected to SSEN-T supporting WWU in the JR. Ellenbogen J determined this issue in SSEN-T's favour: [2025] EWHC 754 (Admin). A substantive hearing is awaited.

Sutcliffe v Secretary of State for Education

[2024] EWHC 1878 (Admin), [2024] ICR 1332

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending this appeal against prohibition from teaching. The case raised complex and sensitive issues around how teachers with strong religious convictions should deal with transgender pupils and preferred pronouns.

The Secretary of State accepted a professional conduct panel's recommendation that the appellant, an Evangelical Christian, should be prohibited from teaching. The panel had found various allegations proven, including 1) failing to use the preferred pronouns of a pupil whose assigned sex at birth was female but who presented as male, which occurred both in the classroom and when the appellant appeared on national television, and 2) telling pupils about a person who had, through God, "stopped being gay" as it was "wrong".

The appellant challenged each of the findings of misconduct and the decision that prohibition was appropriate. His central argument was that the panel's decision infringed his Articles 9 and 10 ECHR rights. Pepperall J dismissed the appeal on all grounds.

MacCallum v Secretary of State for Education

Acted for Secretary of State for Education (SSE) in this appeal against prohibition from teaching. This was a sensitive case concerning allegations of sexual relations between a teacher and a vulnerable former pupil.

A professional conduct panel had upheld certain allegations and recommended that the SSE make a prohibition order, which would apply for life but with the possibility of applying for a review after 2 years. The SSE accepted the recommendation but, unusually, disagreed with the panel about the review period, which the SSE set at 5 years.

The appeal raised difficult issues as to whether the SSE went behind panel's findings and judgements on the seriousness of the misconduct and risk of repetition, and the extent to which the SSE can lawfully take a different view from the panel on matters of weight and judgement.

Julian Knowles J dismissed the appeal on all grounds.

R (Elliott Associates LP and another) v London Metal Exchange

[2023] EWHC 2969 (Admin)

Acted for the lead claimants (Elliott) in this challenge to the LME's unprecedented action of cancelling agreed trades in the nickel market, seeking declaratory relief and damages of over $450m.

This was an exceptionally complex JR, factually and legally. There were numerous interlocutory applications, two CMCs and a 3 day substantive hearing. Unusually in JR, the case involved several rounds of pleadings and witness statements. At the substantive hearing there were over 5,000 pages of evidence and over 150 authorities.

The claimants obtained permission to rely on expert evidence, which is rare in JR and had been vigorously opposed by the defendants.

The novel and difficult legal issues included whether the LME had power to cancel trades, whether such action was compatible with Elliott's rights under Article 1 of Protocol No.1 ECHR, and the requirements of procedural fairness and rational decision-making in this context. The Divisional Court dismissed the claim.

Mermaids v Charity Commission

[2023] UKFTT 563 (GRC)

Acted for the Charity Commission in successfully defending this appeal against its decision to register LGB Alliance as a charity. The case raised issues about whether the statutory test for charity status is met by a body whose views on certain issues concerning sexual orientation and transgender rights are considered controversial by some people. The appeal, which attracted considerable media attention, was heard over the course of 7 days in September and November 2022.

Ofsted v Information Commissioner

(First-tier Tribunal, 2024)

Acted for Ofsted in its successful appeal against the Information Commissioner's decision that comments made on Ofsted's "Parent View" online system during a school inspection are not exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA).

This was an important test case for Ofsted, which views complete confidentiality of parents' comments as an essential feature of the inspection system, absent which Ofsted's engagement with parents, and accordingly its performance of its statutory functions, would be compromised.

The case raised complex legal issues including the meaning and scope of 'personal data' (on which there were conflicting authorities) and whether revealing parents' identities would constitute an actionable breach of confidence.

The Information Commissioner conceded the appeal after it was part-heard, in light of Ofsted's additional written submissions filed ahead of the resumed hearing.

R (Milne) v Financial Conduct Authority

(Administrative Court, 2024)

Acted for the FCA in this judicial review challenge to its approach to an application made under s.28A of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000. The application invited the FCA to assess compensation for loss caused by an alleged breach of the general prohibition in entering into a loan agreement. The case raised important issues about whether the FCA is entitled to await the outcome of litigation in which the same issues will be decided as those which the FCA would itself need to decide in order to determine the s.28A application.

Simon Ray v Secretary of State for the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs

[2024] UKFTT 280 (GRC)

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending the first appeal against a refusal to grant an exemption from the ban on dealing in ivory under the Ivory Act 2018.

R (O'Neill) v Parole Board

(Administrative Court, 2024)

Acted for the Parole Board in this challenge to its handling of the claimant's case. The case raised novel issues concerning the Board's powers to reconsider and/or set aside its own decisions and the extent to which it is functus officio after taking a decision.

R (Direkoglu) v Secretary of State for Justice

(Administrative Court, 2023)

Acted for the Secretary of State in this challenge to the decision to recall the claimant to prison for breach of his licence conditions. The case raised issues regarding delay and alternative remedies as well as the correct approach in law to recall decisions.

R (Taggart) v Royal College of Surgeons

[2022] EWHC 1141 (Admin), [2022] ICR 1235

Acted for the defendant (RCS) in test case on whether it is amenable to judicial review (JR).

The claim was brought by a surgeon (C) whose employer, an NHS trust, had engaged the RCS to carry out an 'invited review' of C's treatment of certain patients. The purpose of the invited review was to assess whether the care provided by C to his patients met the applicable surgical standards. C was dissatisfied with the RCS's report and sought JR on numerous public law grounds.

The RCS contested the claim primarily on the basis that it is not amenable to JR. This issue was heard as a preliminary issue. Hill J accepted the RCS's submissions and accordingly dismissed the claim.

R (AFG) v (1) Met Police, (2) College of Policing

(Administrative Court, 2023)

Acted for the College of Policing in defending this challenge to the retention of records about a suspect who was below the age of criminal responsibility at the time of the alleged offence. The challenge was against both the Met Police, which had retained the records, and the College of Policing, which is responsible for relevant guidance.

R (Masters) v The Fundraising Regulator

(Administrative Court, 2021)

Acted for the Fundraising Regulator in successfully defending this judicial review challenge to its handling of the claimant's complaint about a charity.

R (Active Sports Trust Ltd t/a Leisure Leagues) v Tamworth Borough Council

(Administrative Court, 2021)

Acted for the defendant in successfully resisting this judicial review challenge to its decision-making regarding access to leisure facilities. The case raised issues including delay and amenability to review.

Scottish Hydro Electric Transmission v Gas and Electricity Markets Authority

(Competition and Markets Authority, October 2021)

Acted for one of the appellants in these appeals to the CMA against Ofgem's RII0-2 price control decision, which sets the revenues transmission and gas distribution companies are entitled to collect from customers until April 2026. Eight appellants brought appeals under s. 11C of the Electricity Act 1989 and s. 23B of the Gas Act 1986 challenging various aspects of the price control, including Ofgem's decisions on the cost of equity, the cost of debt, the outperformance wedge, ongoing efficiency, the efficiency benchmark and the licence modification process.

R (Hughes) v Board of the Pension Protection Fund

[2021] EWCA Civ 1093

Acted for the successful claimants in this challenge to the PPF's decision as to how it would pay their pensions, and accrued entitlements, in the light of the CJEU ruling in Hampshire v Board of the Pension Protection Fund [2019] ICR 327. The Court of Appeal upheld Lewis J's ruling that the provisions in the Pensions Act 2004 that capped the amount of compensation payable gave rise to unjustified discrimination on grounds of age, contrary to the pensioners' directly effective rights derived from the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights as well as being contrary to A1P1 and Article 14 ECHR, such that those primary legislative provisions fell to be disapplied.

In the matter of the Reproductive Health Group

(HFEA Licensing Committee, 2020)

Acted for the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Authority's Executive in one of the first licensing cases to be decided following a contested hearing in front of the HFEA's Licensing Committee.

Nicholson and others v Charity Commission

Acted for the Charity Commission in successfully defending an appeal against its decision declining to remove three Jewish charities from the Charities Register. The Appellants argued that the charities were complicit in the displacement of Palestinians from their property in Israel. The First Tier Tribunal held that none of the Appellants had standing to bring the appeal.

R (Taveta Investments Limited) v Financial Reporting Council

[2018] EWHC 1662 (Admin)

Acted for Taveta, the former owners of BHS, in the first case in which the High Court has, even on an interim basis, found an arguable breach of the duty of fairness owed to a person who stands to be criticised in a public report. Taveta sought an interim injunction restraining the FRC from publishing a settlement document agreed with Taveta's auditors. The basis of the application was that the FRC had acted in breach of the duty of fairness in not affording Taveta's management any 'Maxwellisation' rights. The Court accepted the arguability of Taveta's claim and granted permission to judicially review the FRC. The interim injunction was not granted on the grounds that the "exceptional circumstances" test was not satisfied (although the Judge expressed serious reservations that that test is too onerous).

R (Jennifer Shepherd on behalf of 999 Call for the NHS) v NHS Commissioning Board and Monitor

[2018] EWCA Civ 2849, [2019] PTSR 790

Acted for the defendants in this important challenge to the reconfiguration of the way in which NHS services are commissioned and paid for. The central issue was whether the Health and Social Care Act 2012 permits commissioners and providers of services to agree a new form of payment mechanism called a "Whole Population Annual Payment" (WPAP) linked to the number of people living in the relevant area. The claimant represented a campaign group which objects to the WPAP on the ground that it abandons the concept of "payment by results" and reverts to the concept of a block contracting arrangement, where providers are paid a fixed payment without reference to the number of patients they actually treat. Kerr J dismissed the claimant's argument that a WPAP is not a lawful payment mechanism. The Court of Appeal dismissed her appeal.

R (Commissioner of City of London Police) v Independent Office for Police Conduct

[2018] EWHC 2997 (Admin)

Acted for the IOPC in successfully defending a challenge to its decision that a police officer should face disciplinary action for possible gross misconduct at the 2010 student fees protest in Parliament Square. The allegations against the officer concern the force he used by way of repeated downward baton strikes when in close proximity to protestors, and the possibility that one of those strikes hit a student who suffered a serious head injury. The claim was unusual in being brought by the Commissioner under whose direction and control the officer had been at the time. Under the statutory scheme, the IOPC has a power to direct the Commissioner to bring disciplinary proceedings. The Commissioner argued that it was irrational for the IOPC to conclude that there is a case to answer against the officer. Also unusually for a judicial review, the case required consideration of a large volume of factual evidence. The Divisional Court (Sharp LJ and Garnham J) dismissed the claim.

R (British Telecommunications plc) v Her Majesty's Treasury

Iain was instructed in this case as specialist public law counsel (alongside a pensions silk) by the Trustee of the BT Pension Scheme. The Trustee was an interested party in a challenge brought by BT against the Treasury's decision to implement an extension of the indexation of certain benefits in public sector pension schemes in a way which BT said had greatly increased BT's liabilities in respect of the BT Pension Scheme. BT argued that it was unlawful for the Treasury to reject various alternative means of protecting public sector pensions which would not have had a read-across to the BT Pension Scheme. The claim failed.

R (News Media Association) v Press Recognition Panel

[2017] EWHC 2527 (Admin)

Acted for the NMA in its challenge to the PRP's decision to recognise IMPRESS as a regulator under the Royal Charter on Self-Regulation of the Press.

Charity Commission v Cambridge Islamic College

[2018] UKUT 0351 (TCC)

Acted for the Charity Commission in the first case to consider the scope of its statutory power to direct a charity to change its name. The grounds for giving a direction include that a charity's name is "too like" the name of another charity. The Upper Tribunal accepted the Commission's argument that the First-tier Tribunal had applied an unduly narrow test in this regard. The words "too like" should be given their ordinary meaning; that is a broad and open-ended meaning rather than a meaning focusing entirely on visual or aural similarity. It is legitimate also to consider similarity in meaning of the words used in the two names.

R (Unison) v Lord Chancellor

[2017] UKSC 51, [2020] AC 869

Acted for Unison in its successful judicial review challenge to the fees regime for employment tribunal cases. In a landmark ruling, a seven-judge Supreme Court unanimously held that the fees regime unlawfully breached the fundamental constitutional right to access to justice.

R (Coll) v Secretary of State for Justice

[2017] UKSC 40, [2017] 1 WLR 2093

Acted for the claimant in this successful judicial review challenge. The Supreme Court accepted her argument that the provision of approved premises (formerly known as probation hostels) directly discriminates against women contrary to the Equality Act 2010.

R (Watson) v Secretary of State for the Home Department

Case C-698/15 [2017] QB 771; [2018] EWCA Civ 70, [2018] QB 912

Acted for Tom Watson MP in his challenge to powers under the Data Retention and Investigatory Powers Act 2014 to require retention of communications data by public telecommunications operators. The challenge succeeded in the Divisional Court on the basis that the Act does not contain sufficient safeguards to protect the right to privacy. The Court of Appeal referred the case to the Court of Justice of the European Union, which gave a ruling upholding Mr Watson's arguments.

R (Baker Tilly UK Audit LLP) v Financial Reporting Council

[2017] EWCA Civ 406

Acted for the FRC in successfully defending a judicial review challenge to its guidance on when action will be taken in respect of misconduct by auditors and to the decision to take action against the claimant.

R (Public Law Project) v The Lord Chancellor

[2016] UKSC 39, [2016] AC 1531

Acted for the Law Society as intervener in support of this successful judicial review challenge to the 'residence test' for civil legal aid.

R (Watch Tower Bible & Tract Society of Britain) v Charity Commission

[2016] EWCA Civ 154, [2016] 1 WLR 2625

Appeared in the Court of Appeal as sole counsel for the Charity Commission in what is now the leading case on the alternative remedy principle in judicial review.

Hunt v Charity Commission

[2016] UKUT 210 (TCC)

Acted for the Charity Commission in its successful appeal against the First-tier Tribunal's approach to the time limits for challenging Commission decisions.

R (Diocese of Menevia and others) v City and County of Swansea Council

[2015] EWHC 1436 (Admin), [2015] PTSR 1507

Acted for the claimants in this successful judicial review of a decision to withdraw free bus travel from pupils of faith schools (but not Welsh language schools), on the ground of indirect race discrimination.

He has extensive experience of representing both claimants and defendants in the Administrative Court and specialist tribunals, as well as in the appellate courts and the European courts. He has a particular interest in cases concerning prisoners' rights, police powers and the right to protest, and the conflict between religious views and homosexual and transgender rights.

“He is proactive, pragmatic and approachable.”

– LEGAL 500, 2025

Cases

R (Hickman) v (1) Parole Board, (2) Secretary of State for Justice

[2024] EWHC 3209 (Admin)

Acted for the Parole Board (PB) in a test case JR by a prisoner (C) challenging the use of Closed Material Procedures (CMPs).

The PB's Rules give it power to hold a CMP, i.e. to decide whether a prisoner is safe to release having regard to 'closed' material which the prisoner has not seen.

C initially challenged the proposed use of a CMP in his individual case as procedurally unfair. C later also challenged the lawfulness of the Rules themselves, arguing the PB can never lawfully hold a CMP in any case. The Secretary of State, who made the Rules, was added as a second defendant. The Chief Constable of Merseyside Police, from whom the closed material originated, was also represented.

By the time of the substantive hearing, the PB had directed C's release. May J held that the claim had therefore become academic and fell to be dismissed on that basis. May J also indicated that she did not consider the challenge to the Rules well-founded.

Sutcliffe v Secretary of State for Education

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending this appeal against prohibition from teaching. The case raised complex and sensitive issues around how teachers with strong religious convictions should deal with transgender pupils and preferred pronouns.

The Secretary of State accepted a professional conduct panel's recommendation that the appellant, an Evangelical Christian, should be prohibited from teaching. The panel had found various allegations proven, including 1) failing to use the preferred pronouns of a pupil whose assigned sex at birth was female but who presented as male, which occurred both in the classroom and when the appellant appeared on national television, and 2) telling pupils about a person who had, through God, "stopped being gay" as it was "wrong".

The appellant challenged each of the findings of misconduct and the decision that prohibition was appropriate. His central argument was that the panel's decision infringed his Articles 9 and 10 ECHR rights. Pepperall J dismissed the appeal on all grounds.

[2023] EWHC 2969 (Admin)

Acted for the lead claimants (Elliott) in this challenge to the LME's unprecedented action of cancelling agreed trades in the nickel market, seeking declaratory relief and damages of over $450m.

This was an exceptionally complex JR, factually and legally. There were numerous interlocutory applications, two CMCs and a 3 day substantive hearing. The Divisional Court dismissed the claim.

Mermaids v Charity Commission

[2023] UKFTT 563 (GRC)

Acted for the Charity Commission in successfully defending this appeal against its decision to register LGB Alliance as a charity. The case raised issues about whether the statutory test for charity status is met by a body whose views on certain issues concerning sexual orientation and transgender rights are considered controversial by some people. The appeal, which attracted considerable media attention, was heard over the course of 7 days in September and November 2022.

R (Hubbock) v (1) Secretary of State for Justice, (2) Governor of HMP Bure

(Administrative Court, 2023)

Acted for the Governor of HMP Bure in this challenge to prisoners' access to pornography. The claimant was denied access to numerous pornographic photographs sent to him by his partner. He alleged that this interfered with his Article 8 ECHR rights.

R (Rutley & Attidore) v Secretary of State for Justice

(Administrative Court, 2022)

Acted for the Secretary of State in this challenge to the handling of video footage of searches carried out on prisoners. The case raised complex issues regarding the requirements of Article 8 ECHR and the Data Protection Act 2018.

R (AFG) v (1) Met Police, (2) College of Policing

(Administrative Court, 2023)

Acted for the College of Policing in defending this challenge to the retention of records about a suspect who was below the age of criminal responsibility at the time of the alleged offence. The challenge was against both the Met Police, which had retained the records, and the College of Policing, which is responsible for relevant guidance.

R (Stewart) v Secretary of State for the Home Department

(Administrative Court, 2022)

Acted for the Home Secretary in this challenge to the treatment of historical convictions for homosexual activities that would be lawful today. Convictions for certain offences could be 'disregarded' but others could not, leading to a challenge on Article 8 and 14 ECHR grounds.

Dzwonek v United Kingdom

Acted as sole counsel for the UK Government in this Strasbourg challenge to the UK's compliance with Article 6 in the context of the enforcement of foreign judgments.

Woolfenden v Secretary of State for Education

[2021] EWHC 3397 (Admin)

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending this statutory appeal against an order prohibiting the appellant from teaching. The case raised important issues about the interplay between the statutory teacher misconduct regime and separate legislation governing teachers' pensions, as well as issues regarding compliance with Convention rights.

Advice on the policing of protests

(2020-2021)

Advised Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary and Fire & Rescue Services in relation to its thematic inspection of the policing of protests. This work involved reviewing the range of existing police powers and criminal offences relevant to protest activities and advising on proposals for reform, with a particular focus on compliance with human rights.

R (Hughes) v Board of the Pension Protection Fund

[2021] EWCA Civ 1093

Acted for the successful claimants in this challenge to the PPF's decision as to how it would pay their pensions, and accrued entitlements, in the light of the CJEU ruling in Hampshire v Board of the Pension Protection Fund [2019] ICR 327. The Court of Appeal upheld Lewis J's ruling that the provisions in the Pensions Act 2004 that capped the amount of compensation payable gave rise to unjustified discrimination on grounds of age, contrary to the pensioners' directly effective rights derived from the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights as well as being contrary to A1P1 and Article 14 ECHR, such that those primary legislative provisions fell to be disapplied.

R (Thakrar) v Governor of HMP Long Lartin

(Administrative Court, 2018)

Acted for the defendant in successfully resisting a judicial review claim in respect of prison conditions, alleging violations of Articles 3, 8, 9 and 14 ECHR. The claim was brought by a Muslim prisoner who argued that his human rights were being violated by being confined in a cell with a toilet which did not have a lid, and being required to pray in close proximity to the toilet.

Judicial review of Solicitor General's decision not to authorise an application for a fresh inquest

(2018)

Advised the Solicitor General in relation to a pre-action protocol letter threatening judicial review proceedings in respect of his decision not to provide his authority for the claimants to seek a fresh inquest concerning the death of their son. The deceased had committed suicide but his parents argued that the police and health services might bear some responsibility. The case raised issues regarding whether Article 2 ECHR was arguably engaged in the circumstances such as to require a "Middleton" inquest.

R (Goldsworthy) v (1) Parole Board, (2) Secretary of State for Justice

(Administrative Court, November 2017)

Acted for the Secretary of State in a claim brought by a former prisoner concerning delay in release following a decision by the Parole Board that he was in principle safe to release. The case raised several public law and human rights issues.

R (Unison) v Lord Chancellor

[2017] UKSC 51, [2020] AC 869

Iain acted for Unison in its successful judicial review challenge to the fees regime for employment tribunal cases.

In a landmark ruling, a seven-judge Supreme Court unanimously held that the fees regime unlawfully breached the fundamental constitutional right to access to justice. The Court quashed the statutory Order which imposed the fees.

Iain was not involved in the lower courts, but because of his expertise in this area he was instructed alongside Dinah Rose QC to argue the case in the Supreme Court.

This is one of the most important civil liberties and human rights cases of recent years.

Acted for Tom Watson MP in his challenge to powers under the Data Retention and Investigatory Powers Act 2014 to require retention of communications data by public telecommunications operators. The challenge succeeded in the Divisional Court on the basis that the Act does not contain sufficient safeguards to protect the right to privacy. The Court of Appeal referred the case to the Court of Justice of the European Union, which gave a ruling upholding Mr Watson's arguments.

Tayo v Charity Commission

[2017] UKUT 134 (TCC)

R (Mengesha) v Commissioner of Police of the Metropolis

[2013] EWHC 1695 (Admin)

Cases

R (Wales & West Utilities Limited) v Competition and Markets Authority

(Administrative Court, ongoing)

Acting for SSEN Transmission (SSEN-T) in complex ongoing litigation about energy prices.

SSEN-T was one of 9 companies that appealed to the CMA against Ofgem's price control decision, which set the revenues they can collect from customers for a 5 year period.

The grounds of appeal raised important points of law, including the extent to which Ofgem can reserve to itself the power to modify the appellants' licences. There were also complex economic issues, supported by extensive expert evidence.

The CMA held multiple hearings and allowed the appeals in part.

One of the other appellants (WWU) is seeking JR in the High Court of the CMA's disposal of the appeals. This is a test case on the standard of review the CMA should apply when deciding whether Ofgem's decision was wrong.

The CMA and Ofgem objected to SSEN-T supporting WWU in the JR. Ellenbogen J determined this issue in SSEN-T's favour: [2025] EWHC 754 (Admin). A substantive hearing is awaited.

R (Elliott Associates LP and another) v London Metal Exchange

[2023] EWHC 2969 (Admin)

Acted for the lead claimants (Elliott) in this challenge to the LME's unprecedented action of cancelling agreed trades in the nickel market, seeking declaratory relief and damages of over $450m.

This was an exceptionally complex JR, factually and legally. There were numerous interlocutory applications, two CMCs and a 3 day substantive hearing. Unusually in JR, the case involved several rounds of pleadings and witness statements. At the substantive hearing there were over 5,000 pages of evidence and over 150 authorities.

The claimants obtained permission to rely on expert evidence, which is rare in JR and had been vigorously opposed by the defendants.

The novel and difficult legal issues included whether the LME had power to cancel trades, whether such action was compatible with Elliott's rights under Article 1 of Protocol No.1 ECHR, and the requirements of procedural fairness and rational decision-making in this context. The Divisional Court dismissed the claim.

R (Milne) v Financial Conduct Authority

(Administrative Court, 2024)

Acted for the FCA in this judicial review challenge to its approach to an application made under s.28A of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000. The application invited the FCA to assess compensation for loss caused by an alleged breach of the general prohibition in entering into a loan agreement. The case raised important issues about whether the FCA is entitled to await the outcome of litigation in which the same issues will be decided as those which the FCA would itself need to decide in order to determine the s.28A application.

Scottish Hydro Electric Transmission v Gas and Electricity Markets Authority

(Competition and Markets Authority, October 2021)

Acted for one of the appellants in these appeals to the CMA against Ofgem's RIIO-2 price control decision, which sets the revenues transmission and gas distribution companies are entitled to collect from customers until April 2026. Eight appellants brought appeals under s. 11C of the Electricity Act 1989 and s. 23B of the Gas Act 1986 challenging various aspects of the price control, including Ofgem's decisions on the cost of equity, the cost of debt, the outperformance wedge, ongoing efficiency, the efficiency benchmark and the licence modification process.

R (British Telecommunications plc) v Her Majesty's Treasury

[2020] EWCA Civ 1

Iain was instructed in this case as specialist public law counsel (alongside a pensions silk) by the Trustee of the BT Pension Scheme. The Trustee was an interested party in a challenge brought by BT against the Treasury's decision to implement an extension of the indexation of certain benefits in public sector pension schemes in a way which BT said had greatly increased BT's liabilities in respect of the BT Pension Scheme. BT argued that it was unlawful for the Treasury to reject various alternative means of protecting public sector pensions which would not have had a read-across to the BT Pension Scheme. The claim failed.

R (Taveta Investments Limited) v Financial Reporting Council

[2018] EWHC 1662 (Admin)

Acted for Taveta, the former owners of BHS, in the first case in which the High Court has, even on an interim basis, found an arguable breach of the duty of fairness owed to a person who stands to be criticised in a public report. Taveta sought an interim injunction restraining the FRC from publishing a settlement document agreed with Taveta's auditors. The basis of the application was that the FRC had acted in breach of the duty of fairness in not affording Taveta's management any 'Maxwellisation' rights. The Court accepted the arguability of Taveta's claim and granted permission to judicially review the FRC. The interim injunction was not granted on the grounds that the "exceptional circumstances" test was not satisfied (although the Judge expressed serious reservations that that test is too onerous).

EDF Energy Limited/SSE Generation Limited v Gas and Electricity Markets Authority

(Competition and Markets Authority, February 2018)

Acted for GEMA in advising on complex EU law issues and later successfully defending an appeal to the CMA under section 173 of the Energy Act 2004. The case focused on the interpretation of an EU Regulation which sets a cap on the maximum amount of transmission charges that can be imposed on electricity generators. The main issue was whether GEMA had correctly interpreted an exclusion whereby charges "for physical assets required for connection to the system" do not count towards the cap. GEMA concluded that charges in respect of cables running to offshore windfarms were within the exclusion. On that basis, there had been no breach of the cap in 2015-16 and GEMA therefore rejected a proposal that generators receive a rebate of around £120 million. The CMA dismissed an appeal by two large generators and upheld GEMA's decision.

R (Southern Water Services Limited) v Environment Agency

(Administrative Court, 2018)

Acted for Southern Water in a judicial review challenge to the EA's refusal to engage in discussion regarding certain business investment areas for Southern Water's sewage treatment works and overflows. The EA's stance was said to be based on the need to avoid the risk of prejudicing an ongoing criminal investigation. However, it stood to cause serious detriment to Southern Water in preparing its business plan for the purposes of Ofwat's price control process. The case settled following a stay of proceedings to enable negotiations between the parties.

R (We Fight Any Claim Ltd) v Financial Conduct Authority

[2017] EWHC 2264 (Admin)

Acted for the FCA in successfully defending a judicial review challenge to the new deadline for bringing complaints about payment protection insurance. The claim raised a number of issues including as to the effect of the ADR Directive.

R (Grace Bay II Holdings Sarl) v Pensions Regulator

British Gas Trading Limited v Gas and Electricity Markets Authority
(2015)

Acted for SSE in the first appeal to the Competition and Markets Authority under section 11C of the Electricity Act 1989. The appeal challenged GEMA's price control decision for electricity distribution network operators for 2015-2023.

R (Western Power Distribution Limited) v Gas and Electricity Markets Authority

(Administrative Court, 2015)

Acted for Western Power in its judicial review challenge to GEMA's decision to impose upon it a very substantial financial penalty.

R (Traveller Movement) v Office of Communications

R (Sainsbury's Supermarkets Limited) v Independent Reviewer of Advertising Standards Authority Adjudications

[2014] EWHC 3680 (Admin), [2015] ACD 15

Acted for Sainsbury's in a judicial review challenge to the ASA's failure to uphold a complaint about misleading comparative advertising by a competitor. The issue was whether a retailer can fairly and lawfully compare the prices of two products when one product is different in its ethical or environmental profile.

R (DM Digital Television Limited) v Office of Communications

[2014] EWHC 961 (Admin)

Acted for Ofcom in a judicial review of its decision to impose a £105,000 fine for breaching the regulatory code of conduct. The Court dismissed an apparent bias challenge based on the fact that Ofcom employees who had investigated the case remained present with the panel of decision-makers during their deliberations.

R (Satellite Entertainment Limited) v Office of Communications

(Court of Appeal, July 2013)

Acted for Ofcom in a judicial review of its decision to impose a £130,000 fine on a broadcaster for breaching the regulatory code of conduct. The case raised issues concerning apparent bias and Article 1 of Protocol No.1 to the ECHR.

Cases

MacCallum v Secretary of State for Education

[2024] EWHC 2454 (Admin)

Acted for Secretary of State for Education (SSE) in this appeal against prohibition from teaching. This was a sensitive case concerning allegations of sexual relations between a teacher and a vulnerable former pupil.

A professional conduct panel had upheld certain allegations and recommended that the SSE make a prohibition order, which would apply for life but with the possibility of applying for a review after 2 years. The SSE accepted the recommendation but, unusually, disagreed with the panel about the review period, which the SSE set at 5 years.

The appeal raised difficult issues as to whether the SSE went behind panel’s findings and judgements on the seriousness of the misconduct and risk of repetition, and the extent to which the SSE can lawfully take a different view from the panel on matters of weight and judgement.

Julian Knowles J dismissed the appeal on all grounds.

Sutcliffe v Secretary of State for Education

[2024] EWHC 1878 (Admin), [2024] ICR 1332

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending this appeal against prohibition from teaching. The case raised complex and sensitive issues around how teachers with strong religious convictions should deal with transgender pupils and preferred pronouns.

The Secretary of State accepted a professional conduct panel’s recommendation that the appellant, an Evangelical Christian, should be prohibited from teaching. The panel had found various allegations proven, including 1) failing to use the preferred pronouns of a pupil whose assigned sex at birth was female but who presented as male, which occurred both in the classroom and when the appellant appeared on national television, and 2) telling pupils about a person who had, through God, “stopped being gay” as it was “wrong”.

The appellant challenged each of the findings of misconduct and the decision that prohibition was appropriate. His central argument was that the panel’s decision infringed his Articles 9 and 10 ECHR rights. Pepperall J dismissed the appeal on all grounds.

R (Taggart) v Royal College of Surgeons

[2022] EWHC 1141 (Admin), [2022] ICR 1235

Acted for the defendant (RCS) in test case on whether it is amenable to judicial review (JR).

The claim was brought by a surgeon (C) whose employer, an NHS trust, had engaged the RCS to carry out an 'invited review' of C's treatment of certain patients. The purpose of the invited review was to assess whether the care provided by C to his patients met the applicable surgical standards. C was dissatisfied with the RCS's report and sought JR on numerous public law grounds.

The RCS contested the claim primarily on the basis that it is not amenable to JR. This issue was heard as a preliminary issue. Hill J accepted the RCS's submissions and accordingly dismissed the claim.

Woolfenden v Secretary of State for Education

[2021] EWHC 3397 (Admin)

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending this statutory appeal against an order prohibiting the appellant from teaching. The case raised important issues about the interplay between the statutory teacher misconduct regime and separate legislation governing teachers' pensions, as well as issues regarding compliance with Convention rights.

Ullmer v Secretary of State for Education

[2021] EWHC 1366 (Admin)

Acted for the Secretary of State in this statutory appeal by a teacher against a prohibition order made following findings of an inappropriate relationship with a pupil.

Reilly v Secretary of State for Education

[2020] EWHC 1188 (Admin)

Acted for the Secretary of State for Education in an appeal highlighting the stricter approach the courts are now taking in disciplinary cases where the regulated person fails to attend the hearing.

Jones v Secretary of State for Education

[2019] EWHC 3151 (Admin)

Acted for the Secretary of State for Education in an important case regarding governmental powers to supplement statutory procedures with non-statutory guidance and directions.

R (Lonsdale) v Judicial Appointments and Conduct Ombudsman

[2019] EWHC 2404 (Admin)

Acted for the JACO in successfully defending a challenge to its decision not to uphold the claimant's complaint regarding the processes followed by the Judicial Conduct Investigation Office. The JCIO had previously rejected a complaint made by the complainant against a senior judge. The case raised issues regarding the ambit of the JACO's statutory functions.

Professional Standards Authority for Health and Social Care v (1) General Dental Council, (2) Ikhlaq Hussain

[2019] EWHC 2640 (Admin)

Acted for the GDC as respondent to an appeal against the decision made by its Professional Conduct Committee to grant an application by a former dentist for his name to be restored to the Dentists Register. The High Court gave an important decision on the extent to which "under prosecution" of a professional disciplinary case can lead to a successful appeal.

Lone v Secretary of State for Education

[2019] EWHC 531 (Admin), [2019] IRLR 523

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending a statutory appeal by a teacher who had been the subject of a prohibition order. The case raised an interesting point about apparent bias in relation to the decision being taken on behalf of the Secretary of State by the Chief Executive of the Teaching Regulation Agency, which also has a role in investigating and presenting cases against teachers.

R (Commissioner of City of London Police) v Independent Office for Police Conduct

[2018] EWHC 2997 (Admin)

Acted for the IOPC in successfully defending a challenge to its decision that a police officer should face disciplinary action for possible gross misconduct at the 2010 student fees protest in Parliament Square. The allegations against the officer concern the force he used by way of repeated downward baton strikes when in close proximity to protestors, and the possibility that one of those strikes hit a student who suffered a serious head injury. The claim was unusual in being brought by the Commissioner under whose direction and control the officer had been at the time. Under the statutory scheme, the IOPC has a power to direct the Commissioner to bring disciplinary proceedings. The Commissioner argued that it was irrational for the IOPC to conclude that there is a case to answer against the officer. Also unusually for a judicial review, the case required consideration of a large volume of factual evidence. The Divisional Court (Sharp LJ and Garnham J) dismissed the claim.

R (Taveta Investments Limited) v Financial Reporting Council

Acted for Taveta, the former owners of BHS, in the first case in which the High Court has, even on an interim basis, found an arguable breach of the duty of fairness owed to a person who stands to be criticised in a public report. Taveta sought an interim injunction restraining the FRC from publishing a settlement document agreed with Taveta's auditors. The basis of the application was that the FRC had acted in breach of the duty of fairness in not affording Taveta's management any 'Maxwellisation' rights. The Court accepted the arguability of Taveta's claim and granted permission to judicially review the FRC. The interim injunction was not granted on the grounds that the "exceptional circumstances" test was not satisfied (although the Judge expressed serious reservations that that test is too onerous).

R (Baker Tilly UK Audit LLP) v Financial Reporting Council

Acted for the General Medical Council as an interested party in this human rights challenge to the MPS's decision to disclose certain material about a doctor to the GMC.

Education

Iain's broad public law practice includes a particular expertise in education cases. He has frequently acted for the Secretary of State for Education and for Ofsted.

MacCallum v Secretary of State for Education

[2024] EWHC 2454 (Admin)

Acted for Secretary of State for Education (SSE) in this appeal against prohibition from teaching. This was a sensitive case concerning allegations of sexual relations between a teacher and a vulnerable former pupil.

A professional conduct panel had upheld certain allegations and recommended that the SSE make a prohibition order, which would apply for life but with the possibility of applying for a review after 2 years. The SSE accepted the recommendation but, unusually, disagreed with the panel about the review period, which the SSE set at 5 years.

The appeal raised difficult issues as to whether the SSE went behind panel's findings and judgements on the seriousness of the misconduct and risk of repetition, and the extent to which the SSE can lawfully take a different view from the panel on matters of weight and judgement.

Julian Knowles J dismissed the appeal on all grounds.

Sutcliffe v Secretary of State for Education

[2024] EWHC 1878 (Admin), [2024] ICR 1332

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending this appeal against prohibition from teaching. The case raised complex and sensitive issues around how teachers with strong religious convictions should deal with transgender pupils and preferred pronouns.

The Secretary of State accepted a professional conduct panel's recommendation that the appellant, an Evangelical Christian, should be prohibited from teaching. (First-tier Tribunal, 2024)

Acted for Ofsted in its successful appeal against the Information Commissioner's decision that comments made on Ofsted's "Parent View" online system during a school inspection are not exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA).

This was an important test case for Ofsted, which views complete confidentiality of parents' comments as an essential feature of the inspection system, absent which Ofsted's engagement with parents, and accordingly its performance of its statutory functions, would be compromised.

The case raised complex legal issues including the meaning and scope of 'personal data' (on which there were conflicting authorities) and whether revealing parents' identities would constitute an actionable breach of confidence.

The Information Commissioner conceded the appeal after it was part-heard, in light of Iain's additional written submissions filed ahead of the resumed hearing.

Anthony Adler v Secretary of State for Education

(First-tier Tribunal, 2023)

Acted for the Secretary of State in defending this appeal against a restriction preventing the appellant's school from accepting new pupils. The case raised issues about the interpretation and application of the statutory standards which independent schools must meet.

R (Landau Forte Charitable Trust) v Secretary of State for Education

(Administrative Court, 2022)

Acted for Ofsted as an interested party in this judicial review challenge to the Secretary of State's decision to terminate the funding agreement for an academy. The case settled when the decision was withdrawn following a positive Ofsted inspection on the academy.

R (Edwards) v Ofsted

(Administrative Court, 2020)

Acted for Ofsted in defending its decisions and actions in relation to a high profile school inspection. Ofsted's inspection report identified serious failings at an independent Steiner school, in light of which the school agreed to remain closed indefinitely. The father of a pupil brought the claim on behalf of a wider group of parents who were aggrieved by the report and alleged that Ofsted had an "anti-Steiner agenda". They instructed Michael Mansfield QC and challenged the entire factual basis of the inspection findings. However, in light of the grounds and evidence filed by Ofsted, the claimant withdrew the claim and paid Ofsted a substantial sum in costs.

Ullmer v Secretary of State for Education

[2021] EWHC 1366 (Admin)

Acted for the Secretary of State in this statutory appeal by a teacher against a prohibition order made following findings of an inappropriate relationship with a pupil.

Acted for the Secretary of State for Education in an appeal highlighting the stricter approach the courts are now taking in disciplinary cases where the regulated person fails to attend the hearing.

[2019] EWHC 531 (Admin), [2019] IRLR 523

Acted for the Secretary of State in successfully defending a statutory appeal by a teacher who had been the subject of a prohibition order. The case raised an interesting point about apparent bias in relation to the decision being taken on behalf of the Secretary of State by the Chief Executive of the Teaching Regulation Agency, which also has a role in investigating and presenting cases against teachers.

The case raised important issues about whether the FCA is entitled to await the outcome of litigation in which the same issues will be decided as those which the FCA would itself need to decide in order to determine the s.28A application.

R (Taveta Investments Limited) v Financial Reporting Council

[2018] EWHC 1662 (Admin)

Acted for Taveta, the former owners of BHS, in the first case in which the High Court has, even on an interim basis, found an arguable breach of the duty of fairness owed to a person who stands to be criticised in a public report. Taveta sought an interim injunction restraining the FRC from publishing a settlement document agreed with Taveta's auditors. The basis of the application was that the FRC had acted in breach of the duty of fairness in not affording Taveta's management any 'Maxwellisation' rights. The Court accepted the arguability of Taveta's claim and granted permission to judicially review the FRC. The interim injunction was not granted on the grounds that the "exceptional circumstances" test was not satisfied (although the Judge expressed serious reservations that that test is too onerous).

(Competition and Markets Authority, October 2021)

Acted for one of the appellants in these appeals to the CMA against Ofgem's RII0-2 price control decision, which sets the revenues transmission and gas distribution companies are entitled to collect from customers until April 2026. Eight appellants brought appeals under s. 11C of the Electricity Act 1989 and s. 23B of the Gas Act 1986 challenging various aspects of the price control, including Ofgem's decisions on the cost of equity, the cost of debt, the outperformance wedge, ongoing efficiency, the efficiency benchmark and the licence modification process.

R (Hughes) v Board of the Pension Protection Fund

[2021] EWCA Civ 1093

Acted for the successful claimants in this challenge to the PPF's decision as to how it would pay their pensions, and accrued entitlements, in the light of the CJEU ruling in Hampshire v Board of the Pension Protection Fund [2019] ICR 327. The Court of Appeal upheld Lewis J's ruling that the provisions in the Pensions Act 2004 that capped the amount of compensation payable gave rise to unjustified discrimination on grounds of age, contrary to the pensioners' directly effective rights derived from the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights as well as being contrary to A1P1 and Article 14 ECHR, such that those primary legislative provisions fell to be disapplied.

Personnel Hygiene Services Ltd v Competition and Markets Authority

(Competition Appeal Tribunal, 2019)

Acted for Rentokil Initial Plc as an Intervener in this challenge by one of its commercial rivals to the CMA's decision in relation to Rentokil's acquisition of Cannon Hygiene Ltd.

EDF Energy Limited/SSE Generation Limited v Gas and Electricity Markets Authority

(Competition and Markets Authority, February 2018)

Acted for GEMA in advising on complex EU law issues and later successfully defending an appeal to the CMA under section 173 of the Energy Act 2004. The case focused on the interpretation of an EU Regulation which sets a cap on the maximum amount of transmission charges that can be imposed on electricity generators. The main issue was whether GEMA had correctly interpreted an exclusion whereby charges "for physical assets required for connection to the system" do not count towards the cap. GEMA concluded that charges in respect of cables running to offshore windfarms were within the exclusion. On that basis, there had been no breach of the cap in 2015-16 and GEMA therefore rejected a proposal that generators receive a rebate of around £120 million. The CMA dismissed an appeal by two large generators and upheld GEMA's decision.

R (We Fight Any Claim Ltd) v Financial Conduct Authority

The challenge succeeded in the Divisional Court on the basis that the Act does not contain sufficient safeguards to protect the right to privacy. The Court of Appeal referred the case to the Court of Justice of the European Union, which gave a ruling upholding Mr Watson's arguments.

British Gas Trading Limited v Gas and Electricity Markets Authority

(2015)

[2013] UKSC 45, 2013 SC (UKSC) 298

Acted for 251 women who brought equal pay claims seeking to compare their pay to that of men employed by the same local authority at different establishments. The Supreme Court upheld the claimants' appeal, holding that they were entitled to rely on their chosen comparators under the Equal Pay Act 1970, properly construed, and that in any event that Act must be read as permitting the comparison by virtue of directly applicable EU law.
