He has since been instructed in another large and high-profile child abduction case involving a Russian family (again advising on all immigration issues in that case).

Nationality and Borders Bill

Jason co-authored a 95-page opinion on the compatibility of the Nationality and Borders Bill and international refugee law (for Freedom from Torture) (available here). The opinion was cited repeatedly during the debate on the Bill in the House of Lords.

Jason also co-authored a detailed opinion on Clause 9 of the Nationality and Borders Bill (which provided for the UK Government to withdraw citizenship without notice) (for the Good Law Project).

Challenge to refugee pushback policy

Jason acted for Freedom From Torture in challenge to the UK Government's refugee pushback policy on the basis that it was ultra vires, and incompatible with the 1951 Refugee Convention and Articles 3 and 4 ECHR. The Government withdrew the policy shortly before the hearing that was due to be heard before a Divisional Court in the week of 2 May, 2022.

Arbab v Secretary of State for the Home Department

Jason acted for Afghan national at risk of persecutory harm in Afghanistan on account of his political activity. The claimant was returned notwithstanding that risk, and is seeking an order compelling re-entry so that he can exercise his right to an in-country appeal.

R (Y & ors) v SSHD

Jason acted for a number of families in connection with involvement in scheme which provided a route to obtain Tier 1 (Investor) visas. The cases raise issues in relation to the Tier 1 (Investor) route, Article 8 ECHR, and Article 3 of the Convention on the Rights of the Child.

A v SSHD; O v SSHD; PRCBC v SSHD

Jason acted for a child claimant challenging the £1017 Home Office fee. That is charged to children to register as British citizens. The claimants allege that this has the effect of depriving children of a statutory right, is contrary to the child's best interests and infringes Article 8.

R (Bashir) v Secretary of State for the Home Department

[2016] 1 WLR 4613 (High Court); [2017] EWCA Civ 397 (Court of Appeal); [2018] 3 WLR 573 (Supreme Court)

Jason acted for six families of recognised refugees residing in the UK Sovereign Base Areas of Akrotiri and Dhekelia in Cyprus. They have been residing there since 1998. The claimants challenge the decision of the SSHD to refuse admission to the UK. The case raises a number of fundamental issues under public international law, including, in particular, whether the Refugee Convention applies to this British overseas territory. The claimants succeeded in the High Court, Court of Appeal and Supreme Court (with Raza Husain KC, Tom Hickman KC and Eddie Craven).

Kuczynski v SSHD

Jason acted for the claimant in this case challenging the UK's policy in relation to rough sleeping in the Upper Tribunal. The UK had passed a policy which suggests that rough sleeping in an of itself constitutes an "abuse of rights" for the purposes of Article 35 of the Citizens Rights Directive. This raised issues concerning free movement rights under the TFEU.

MS v SSHD

Jason acted for the AIRE Centre which has intervened in the Supreme Court in this important appeal concerning (i) the extent to which decisions of the Competent Authority may be binding on a tribunal; and (ii) the scope of the protective and investigative duties under Article 4 ECHR.

R (J) v Secretary of State for the Home Department

Jason acted for a number of unaccompanied minors challenging the significant and ongoing delay by the SSHD in determining the claimants' individual asylum claims, and the systemic delay by the SSHD in determining asylum claims of unaccompanied children more generally. Raises issues under domestic law, EU law and public international law (in particular, under the Convention on the Rights of the Child).

SXH v Crown Prosecutions Service

[2017] 1 WLR 1401

Represented UNHCR pro bono in the Supreme Court in this case which concerns the circumstances in which Art 8 ECHR will be engaged by a decision to prosecute a refugee for the use of false documents. The case has far-reaching implications for refugees entering the United Kingdom (with Raza Husain KC and Paul Luckhurst).

ZAT and others v SSHD

[2016] 1 WLR 4894

Jason acted for the AIRE Centre in the Court of Appeal in this case which concerns the application of Art 8 ECHR to unaccompanied refugee children in the Calais "Jungle" (with Raza Husain KC).

R (O) v Home Secretary

[2016] 1 WLR 1717

Represented BID and Medical Justice in case concerning immigration detention of those with mental illness (with Michael Fordham QC).

RA (a child by his litigation friend) and BF v Secretary of State for the Home Department

Jason acted successfully for the Office of the Children's Commissioner before the Upper Tribunal and Court of Appeal in this challenge to the SSHD's refusal to return a 5-year old boy from Nigeria and his mentally ill mother on the basis that the SSHD did not adequately consider the child's best interests. SSHD ordered to return to the family (with Monica Carrs-Frisk KC and Kate Gallafent KC).

JA (Nigeria) v Secretary of State for the Home Department

Jason acted for a mother and son in this important appeal before the Court of Appeal which concerns the proper approach to the definition of persecutory harm under the Refugee Convention in cases involving children. The child in this case is a 5-year albino boy, who would face widespread societal discrimination if returned to Nigeria, including a risk of ritual killing. The Secretary of State conceded the appeal before the hearing.

Environment

Jason has a particular interest and expertise in environment cases, particularly in the context of judicial review. He has particular expertise in cases with an EU law dimension.

“Very strategic and sharp, his written submissions are clear and concise and he skilfully steers cases drawing on his wealth of experience.”

Cases

Banks Renewables Ltd v Secretary of State for Business Energy and Industry

Jason acted for a number of interveners in this judicial review challenge where the Claimant seeks to challenge the legality of the Secretary of State's decision to exclude most generators of onshore wind energy from participation in the third allocation round auction for the award of Contracts for Difference (with Kieron Beal KC).

Marinet Ltd v Ministry of Defence

Jason advised for an environmental NGO in respect of a challenge to the decision of the Ministry of Defence to refuse to designate the Goodwin Sands as an archaeological site in light of the very large number of ships and planes that went down in this area during WWII. The issue has arisen as a result of a dredging application that has been made to build a port in Devon. The dredging will have detrimental impact on marine wildlife and the large number of ships, aircraft and crew lost at sea during WWII, during the Battle of Britain.

Drax Power Ltd and Infinis Energy Holdings Ltd v HM Treasury and HM Revenue & Customs

[2016] 2 CMLR 33 (High Court); [2017] QB 1221 (Court of Appeal)

Jason acted for Drax and Infinis in the High Court and Court of Appeal for renewable source energy generators in challenge to the withdrawal of tax relief with practical immediacy. It was alleged that the withdrawal violated applicable standards of EU law, including the principles of foreseeability and proportionality, and A1P1 ECHR. (with Michael Fordham KC).

Ineos Upstream Ltd v Persons Unknown

[2017] EWHC 2945 (Ch)

Jason acted for Ineos in application for interim injunction restraining persons unknown from a range of unlawful activity against fracking operators and their third party contractors. Ineos succeeded in obtaining the interim injunction before the High Court. The case raises issues relating to the scope of Articles 10 and 11 ECHR, the appropriateness of obtaining relief against persons unknown, the test for quia timet interim injunctions, and the scope of the various alleged torts/statutory offences. A Court of Appeal hearing is listed for early 2019.

IGas v Persons Unknown

Jason acted for IGas in application for interim injunction restraining persons unknown from a range of unlawful activity against fracking operators.
